RESPONSORIAL PSALM

The Lord has done great things for us; we are filled with joy.

El Señor ha hecho grandes cosas por nosotros; estamos llenos de alegría.

Prayer of Saint Michael

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen

Oracion de San Miguel

San Miguel Arcángel, defiéndenos en la lucha. Sé nuestro amparo contra la perversidad y acechanzas del demonio. Que Dios manifieste sobre él su poder, es nuestra humilde súplica. Y tú, oh Príncipe de la Milicia Celestial, con el poder que Dios te ha conferido, arroja al infierno a Satanás, y a los demás espíritus malignos que vagan por el mundo para la perdición de las almas. Amén.

Sunday Readings Reflection

Today's readings for this Sunday are very hopeful and restoring. In the first reading from the book of Jeremiah, the Lord says that he will restore his people to their homeland; he will gather the lost, the strayed, and even the mothers with children will be led along a safe way. He promises to comfort them and lead them, and bring back those who are returned weeping with joy. The same is captured in the psalm; a situation that looks hopeless is turned into joy; those who plant in tears will reap a harvest of joy.

The Gospel for today also has something to do with this through the narrative of Bartimaeus, the blind beggar who called out to Jesus despite the crowd's attempts to silence him. Bartimaeus' faith pushes him to call out even louder, and Jesus responds with compassion & sympathy, restoring his sight. This also teaches us that even when the world around us tells us to be silent or we feel abandoned Jesus listens to us and comes to our rescue. This is seen in the Lord's question, 'What do you want me to do for you?' which shows that God wants to encounter each of us individually and to know what we want.

In our day to day life we find ourselves in situations where we get lost, not being heard or in need of a new beginning. It makes us think of Bartimaeus, clamoring for help, or the people in Jeremiah's prophecy, who are in search of direction and comfort. Today's readings give us the strength to know that God listens to us when we feel forgotten or undeserving and is taking us to the place of His love. When we are in a state of uncertainty or simply tired, we should remember that God will never fail to shine light into our darkness and joy into our sorrow. Let us never forget, like Bartimaeus, that we have to keep on believing and never let go of the hope that God will come into our lives and lead us to his path of healing.

Reflexión sobre las lecturas del domingo

Las lecturas de hoy, este domingo, son muy esperanzadoras y restauradoras. En la primera lectura del libro de Jeremías, el Señor dice que restaurará a su pueblo a su patria; reunirá a los perdidos, a los extraviados, e incluso a las madres con niños, las guiará por un camino seguro. Promete consolarlos y guiarlos, y traer de vuelta a quienes regresen llorando de alegría. Lo mismo se capta en el salmo; una situación que parece desesperada se convierte en alegría; quienes siembran con lágrimas cosecharán una cosecha de alegría.

El Evangelio de hoy también tiene algo que ver con esto a través de la narración de Bartimeo, el mendigo ciego que llamó a Jesús a pesar de los intentos de la multitud de silenciarlo. La fe de Bartimeo lo impulsa a llamar aún más fuerte, y Jesús responde con compasión y simpatía, devolviéndole la vista. Esto también nos enseña que incluso cuando el mundo que nos rodea nos dice que guardemos silencio o nos sentimos abandonados, Jesús nos escucha y viene a nuestro rescate. Esto se ve en la pregunta del Señor: "¿Qué quieres que haga por ti?", que muestra que Dios quiere encontrarse con cada uno de nosotros individualmente y saber qué queremos.

En nuestra vida diaria nos encontramos en situaciones en las que nos perdemos, no somos escuchados o necesitamos un nuevo comienzo. Nos hace pensar en Bartimeo, clamando por ayuda, o en las personas de la profecía de Jeremías, que están en busca de dirección y consuelo. Las lecturas de hoy nos dan la fuerza para saber que Dios nos escucha cuando nos sentimos olvidados o indignos y nos está llevando al lugar de su amor. Cuando estamos en un estado de incertidumbre o simplemente cansados, debemos recordar que Dios nunca dejará de hacer brillar la luz en nuestra oscuridad y la alegría en nuestro dolor. Nunca olvidemos, como Bartimeo, que tenemos que seguir creyendo y nunca perder la esperanza de que Dios vendrá a nuestras vidas y nos llevará a su camino de sanación.
